APPLICATIONS AVAILABLE

WYOMING PUBLIC LANDS INITIATIVE

PARK COUNTY ADVISORY COMMITTEE

The Park County Commissioners are seeking applicants interested in participating on the Wyoming Public Lands Initiative (WPLI) Advisory Committee. Committee members will be selected by the Board of County Commissioners based on training, experience or affiliation pertinent to the goals of the WPLI initiative. Successful applicants will be Park County residents able to make a two- to three-year commitment to serve on the committee and must be able to work cooperatively in a group comprised of diversified interests to develop a unified recommendation. One representative from each of the following areas will be appointed: agriculture/ranching, conservation, sportsman, energy, motorized recreation, non-motorized recreation. Four members representing the general public will be appointed.

Applications are available at the Park County Commissioners' office, 1002 Sheridan Avenue, Cody; on the Park County web site (under News); or by email to sromero@parkcounty.us. The deadline to submit applications is 5:00 p.m., Friday, April 8, 2016.

The core goal of the Wyoming Public Lands Initiative (WPLI) is to develop a locally-led, Wyoming-specific, legislative lands package to address designation, release, or other management for Wilderness Study Areas (WSAs) in Wyoming. The WPLI is a voluntary project initiated and led at the county level that will culminate in legislation forwarded to Wyoming's Congressional delegation. While the WPLI is intended to allow for flexibility at the county or multi-county level in the development of final recommendations for legislative text, process integrity and stakeholder inclusion is critical to a successful conclusion.
