Good afternoon, WPLI Advisory Committee members

Thank you for putting yourselves out there on behalf of the Wyoming Public Lands Initiative <http://www.wyo-wcca.org/index.php/initiatives/wpli/>. I have had the pleasure of meeting some of you as I have made my way around the state. As I continue to get around Wyoming, I hope to have any deficiency in acquaintance remedied soon enough.

Speaking of . . . I want to invite you to WCCA's second "all hands" meeting taking place this March 23 in Lander. The focus of the meeting, aka Lander 2, will be putting WPLI into practice by providing opportunities to network with other county advisory committee members; identifying communication tools and best process practices appropriate to WPLI's Principles and Guidelines http://www.wyo-wcca.org/~wcca/files/8614/6533/5894/WPLI_Principles_and_Guidelines_FINAL.pdf; understanding the nuances inherent in successful public lands legislation; and hearing from others who have engaged in similar, successful collaborative decision-making processes.

Please go here <http://www.123contactform.com/form-2423957/Lander-2-Registration> to register. A preliminary agenda will be sent out to you in a follow-up email with homework (my insincere apologies) the first week of February.

Your committed engagement serves as the linchpin for WPLI (or "whipplee" as it's endearingly referred to by an anonymous interest). Please do not hesitate to reach out with any questions you may have. More information will soon follow; consider this a nod to you early-birders out there.

Kind Regards,
Gregory
